Flood Deaths May Hit 500 In Mexican Town On Rio Grande

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (AP)—At least 55 persons are dead in the Rio Grande's most devastating flood in history, but the death toll might rise to disaster proportions today.

Across the river from here, at miserable Piedras Negras, Mexico, it was feared hundreds may have died in the collapsed adobe huts of the poor.

Of the counted dead, 38 were at Piedras Negras. Nearly 100 miles north of the river, at Ozona, Tex., one of the flash floods which fed Rio Grande's swollen stream Monday killed at least 16 others. Another died in a Pecos River flood.

Warnings Pay Off

Upstream at Del Rio, Tex., and Ciudad Acuna, Mexico, and downstream at Laredo, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, there were few casualties and no deaths from the unprecedented flood. Adequate warnings and other safeguards plus organization paid off.

Large numbers of sick and injured were making their way toward makeshift hospitals last night in Piedras Negras. Sixty-five injured were in a temporary medical shelter, and more moved in every minute.

At least 15,000 were homelsss and some 7,000 refugees huddled in the hills of Coahuila with no shelter, no food and no water. About 80 per cent of the homes in the city of 35,000 were flooded.

Screams In the Dark

Manuel Olivares, a lumberman of Piedras Negras, told the story of his city's tragedy with tears in his eyes.

"I heard hundreds crying for help in the dark, but I couldn't help them," he said. "You could hear people shouting for help, but you couldn't see them. You could hear houses collapsing, then screams . . . then nothing."

The next day, Olivares said, destruction was everywhere. There were bodies in trees, some of them tied in the upper branches, bodies in piles of debris, and some caught on barbed-wire fences.

"I believe there are lots of bodies under the mud of the adobe huts and in the wreckage of the houses," he said.

Although no dead were reported at Laredo, Associated Press reporter Dave Cheavens said there was no power, no water and a shortage of medical supplies at Nuevo Laredo. There, too, homeless refugees huddled in the hills where the Pan-American Highway points southward

No Water Supply

Laredo, a city of nearly 60,000, was isolated most of Wednesday. Late in the day limited traffic was allowed over a highway covered by two feet of water. By tonight, it was expected that auto traffic might be near normal.

The Red Cross began giving typhoid injections to an estimated 5,000 persons at Laredo. They were from the 1,200 families forced from their homes by the floodwaters.

Laredo had no municipal water and was faced with a mounting health problem. Mayor Joe C. Martin said the river would have to drop five feet before city water could be turned on. Such a drop seemed out of the question before late tonight.

Meanwhile, the city was getting water from an uncontaminated reservoir by 15 busy tank trucks.

Farm Program Has Showdown In House Today

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's politically explosive farm program faced its crucial test in the House today with President Eisenhower and many members of his own party bitterly at odds.

The House was called into session two hours ahead of normal to start voting on the farm bill and Republican House leaders were reported ready to offer a compromise which would preserve the President's program in bare principle.

High Prices Favored

But farm state forces, including many Democrats, were cool toward talk of compromise and gave signs of making a showdown fight for continued high price supports in the face of the President's opposition.

Both sides counted on the support of Northern big city members whose constituents are most interested in grocery store prices. A possible tipoff as to how the Northern Democratic vote might go was an announcement Wednesday night that the New York Democratic delegation would back high price supports.

New York Democrats, virtually all from New York City, said, "The best way to maintain the welfare of our cities is to sustain the purchasing power of the 30 million farmers."

Veto Predicted

Before the House was a bill recommended by the Agriculture Committee and calling for another year of price supports on basic crops at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices said by law to give farmers a fair return in relation to their costs.

The administration backs a flexible scale in which supports would range fom 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Republican House Leader Halleck of Indiana told reporters he favors a substitute for the high support section of the committee bill which would keep the minimum support level at 80 or 85 per cent of parity rather than 75.

"It would re-establish the principle of flexibility, but with a higher minimum parity figure," he said, and declared: "I think we can win with it."

President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he still backs his program for flexible supports, but he said he planned no new appeal to the House. There has been speculation he would veto an extension of 90 per cent props.

Mental Patient Fights Duel To Death With 200 Police; 8 Wounded

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A 54-year-old man on convalescent leave from a mental hospital fought a death duel with 200 policemen in his West Side home Wednesday and wounded eight officers before he was killed.

When the gunfire finally was stilled the body of Howard Ellis lay behind a bookcase barricade, riddled by 26 bullets. His dirty white frame house was splintered by thousands of rounds of ammunition.

Ellis' wife Janie, first target of his rage, suffered minor wounds in the left leg and left hand.

One patrolman, Paul White, 39, was in critical condition with wounds in the chest, neck and arm.

Children Escape

Two others were listed in serious condition. They were Dora Ward, 27, shot in the head, and Marlin Lyon, 39, shot in the right side. Lt. Paul Pearcey, 60, was in fair condition. Four others were released after treatment for less serious wounds.

Five foster children who had been placed in the Ellis home by the Welfare Department slipped out of the house before the shooting started and were not harmed.

Central state hospital said Ellis had been on leave for a year and a half and had been checked by monthly reports. The hospital said his June report was the most favorable since his release.

Mrs. Ellis said the trouble started when Ellis beat one of the foster children wards. She threatened to call the hospital and have him recommitted, and he chased her from the house. She called the hospital and police from a neighbor's home, then started to return home.

Big Supply of Shells

That was when Ellis started shooting, wounding her. She fled again, and the first police to arrive found Ellis crouching behind a utility pole outside the house. He wounded Pearcey. The officers held their fire because there were children in the yard.

Ellis retreated to the house and the siege began. His wife said she had no idea where he got his shotgun, rifle and huge supply of ammunition.

Ellis kept up a heavy fire. Finally an armored car roared up to the back door, and three heavily armed officers leaped through the door and ended the battle.

"It just had to be that way," Mrs. Ellis said softly when they told her at General Hospital that her husband was dead.

Truman's Doctors Report He's On Way To Recovery

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman's doctors say they now expect him to make continued progress in recovering from his operation and its after effects.

Even the former President is reported expressing some impatience with his stay in Research Hospital.

In Wednesday night's report, a hospital spokesman said he was making substantial progress and his temperature had reached a normal level of 98.4 degrees.

Truman's gall bladder and appendix were removed June 20. He appeared to be making a remarkable recovery for a few days. Then he suffered a temporary setback because of secondary infections and unfavorable reaction to certain drugs.

Victory Assured For Eisenhower On Tax Revision

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance for a general income tax cut in the big tax revision bill appeared dead today after rival Democratic and Republican proposals both were beaten in a crossfire of political maneuvering.

The twin defeats assured the Eisenhower administration of one of its biggest victories of the 1954 congressional session — enactment of the tax bill just about as it was recommended to the Capitol.

Senate passage may come late today. The measure then will go to conference with the House, which has already okayed the bill in somewhat different form.

Substitute Defeated

The principal fight Wednesday centered on a proposal of Sen. George (D-Ga) to write a $2,400,000,000 annual income tax cut into the bill by raising personal exemptions $100.

Several Republican senators had indicated they might go along on this. So Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), floor manager for the measure, came up with a substitute tax plan which would have given each taxpayer a $20 annual cut—$40 for a man and wife—provided they did

Telephone Service Faces Crippling Installers' Strike

DETROIT (AP)— Some 775 Western Electric installers walked off their jobs at Michigan Bell Telephone exchanges today as part of a nationwide strike.

The men reported for work as usual this morning, but quit posts shortly after 11 a. m.

The strikers did not set up any picket lines immediately at Michigan Bell plants and neither local nor long distance telephone calls were affected.

NEW YORK (AP)—Seventeen thousand CIO workers who install and maintain telephone equipment were called on strike across the nation today but a delay in picketing eased any immediate threat of crippled phone commuications.

In previous strikes, failure of long distance telephone operators to cross picket lines has caused difficulties.

However, dial phones and automatic equipment could continue to operate for some time before needing attention or repairs.

The CIO Communications Workers Union announced shortly after 6 a.m. that "the strike is on."

In some areas—notably the huge metropolitan area of New York and at Baltimore—the walkout was delayed until 11 a.m. (EDT). No explanation was given.

In New York it was also announced that the present plan of the equipment installers is to delay picketing telephone buildings around the nation until next Tuesday morning. But an official said this plan was "subject to change."

The strike was called after a breakdown in negotiations between the CWA's District 10, and the Western Electric Co., which is the manufacturing arm of the American Telephone and Telegraph system.

The union is seeking a new work contract with various benefits, and the breakup in contract talks dashed hopes of a last-minute settlement hinging on an increased wage offer from Western Electric.

The official start of the strike was announced by Joseph Dunne, director of CWA District 10.

French Prepare To Give Up Last Hanoi Defenses

By LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (AP) —Much of the Red River delta, key prize in the bitter Indochina war, was falling into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh tonight without a fight.

French Union forces were evacuating swiftly from their hard-to hold centers in the delta area. The end to the savage eight-year-old struggle appeared to be not far off.

The French Union forces were generally withdrawing to their last lone lifeline — the railway and highway linking the war capital of Hanoi with the seaport of Haiphong 64 miles to the east.

An Indochina Dunkerque may come soon at the end of this road—"the most dangerous road in the world." Haiphong is France's last beachhead in northern Viet Nam. It is from there that they will have to make the attempt to evacuate tens of thousands of troops, whether as a result of a cease-fire or after fighting their way through from Hanoi.

Uncle Sam Winds Up In Red Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today is the first day of a new fiscal year for the government and it looks like Uncle Sam wound up the old year in the red by about 3¼ billion dollars that had been predicted.

However, the deficit for the fiscal year ended Wednesday may be a little smaller than previously estimated. Revenues evidently were lower than anticipated, but cuts in government spending went deeper than previously predicted.

The government begins its fiscal or business years on July 1 and closes its books annually on June 30. The year beginning today is fiscal 1955, for which President Eisenhower has predicted a deficit next June 30 of about $2,928,000,000.

In his budget message of last January giving revised estimates for the fiscal year just ended, Eisenhower predicted that fiscal 1954 spending would total about $70,902,000,000 and net receipts would come to approximately $67,629,000,000. That would leave a deficit of about 3¼ billions.

The treasury will not have final, complete figures on the fiscal year until about July 19.

The government appears to have wound up fiscal 1954 with a debt of about 270 billions.

Russians May Have Strategic Lead In Atomic Power Race

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia might be able to use a lead in atomic industrial power development as a lever to outmaneuver the United States in the cold war between communism and the free world.

American atomic officials contemplated this prospect today in light of the Soviet's claim to have put into operation a nuclear power plant with a 5,000-kilowatt electrical power output.

While there was no immediate official confirmation of the announcement made by Moscow radio Wednesday, there also was no disposition to deny that the Russians had succeeded in getting an atomic power plant into operation.

Those who look upon peaceful use of atomic power as an instrument of national policy contend: The nation which first succeeds in building practical atomic power plants capable of being assembled in components and shipped overseas will have an instrument to offer power-poor nations such as those of southeast and southern Asia, the Middle East, North Africa and in similar places.

If Russia should be ready first for the building and export of such plants, they say, she would have a good bargain to offer small nations which might be wavering between the free world and communism.

Flint Gun Spree Takes 3 Lives

FLINT (AP)—A story of family discontent, including a husband's apparent resentment toward his college -graduate stepdaughter, emerged today from a double slaying and suicide.

The husband, wife and the stepdaugher all were shot to death yesterday, apparently at the man's hand.

Police called it "double murder" and suicide after finding the bodies of Harry S. Bancroft, 58, a paper salesman, his estranged wife, Grace, 46, and his stepdaughter, Ann Limberg, 21, Michigan State College graduate, in the basement of the $75000 Bancroft ranch-house home.

All had been killed by rifle shots. Mrs. Bancroft's body lay across that of Ann's, as though the mother had flung herself there in a futile effort to protect her daughter before being shot herself.

Both the women were shot twice, Bancroft once. Bancroft had gone into the basement recreation room to shoot himself, police said.

Mrs. Bancroft, recently brought suit for divorce. She complained mainly that her husband, whom she married in 1945, repeatedly embarrassed and criticized Ann although before their marriage he had acted with affection toward her.

The Bancroft's separated June 7. A court decree forbade Bancroft from living in the house or molesting Mrs. Bancroft.

Guatemala Pledged Support Of U. S. In Banning Communism

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States pressed on today for early creation of an anti-Communist pact in Southeast Asia while hailing a victory over international communism in Guatemala.

Secretary of State Dulles, cautioning that "communism is still a menace everywhere," pledged the support of the United States Wednesday to the people of Guatemala in their efforts to build a "prosperous and progressive" and non-Communist nation.

Defense Treaty Signed

Several hours earlier, United States joined Australia and New Zealand in a declaration that there is "need for immediate action" to bring about early establishment of a collective defense in Southeast Asia.

The three nations are signers of a mutual defense treaty. Dulles met Wednesday with Australia's Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey and New Zealand's Ambassador Leslie Knox Munro. Together they form a council set up by the "Anzus" pact.

Diplomats agreed that the Anzus statement expressed a greater sense of urgency and implied that American consultation with the British government on future plans would be paralleled by talks with Australia. New Zealand and other nations having direct interest in stemming the Communist tide.

Tied Up With Moscow

After he met with Casey and Munro, Dulles went on nationwide radio and television networks to make a statement on the Guatemalan situation, which the Voice of America also broadcast over the world.

Dulles said "international communism" had sought for years to establish a Red front in the Western Hemisphere by building up power in Guatemala. He tied this operation directly to Moscow, saying the dramatic events of recent days — during which the pro-Communist government in Guatemala was overthrown — have exposed "the evil purpose of the Kremlin to destroy the inter-American system."

He also said this "intrusion of Soviet despotism was, of course, a direct challenge to our Monroe Doctrine — the first and most fundamental of our foreign policies." (The doctrine laid down by President Monroe in 1923 bars any extension of foreign power in the Western Hemisphere.)

"The need for vigilance is not past," he said. "Communism is still a menace everywhere. But the people of the United States and of the other American republics can feel tonight that at least one grave danger has been averted . . . "

Trouble In Jerusalem

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel announced today she will complain to the U.N. Security Council against alleged new peace violations by neighboring Jordan. The announcement came as firing flared across the borderline in this divided city for the third time in 24 hours. Both sides admitted casualties and have complained to the U.N. Armistice Commission, charging the other with aggression.

Guard, 65, Drops Dead, But 20 Convicts Stay

DOTHAN, Ala. (AP)—"There ain't a man who would run away from Mr. Ellison," a sorrowing convict told attendants at a hospital at nearby Abbeville.

And not a prisoner left when Otho Towns Ellison, 65-year-old guard, died of a heart attack Tuesday on a lonely road near this southeast Alabama town.

When the 20 convicts Ellison had been guarding brought his body to the Abbeville Hospital, the guard's revolver was still strapped to his side. Allison was working the convicts on a road project when the heart attack struck. He had worked for the State Highway Department for five years.

May Jilt Britain

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio hinted today Red China may withdraw its offer to "normalize" diplomatic relations with Britain if the latter joins a proposed Southeast Asia defense bloc against communism.

Democrats Act Like Crybabies

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) accused Republicans today of trying to brand the Democrats as "traitors" and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) retorted that the Democrats are becoming "crybabies."

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, commented that "there just isn't any bipartisan foreign policy because the Republicans still want the country to think the Democrats are traitors."

Ferguson, who heads the Senate GOP Policy Committee, said in a separate interview the Republicans have as much right to criticize what he called mistakes of past Democratic administration as the opposition has to differ on present foreign policies.

"The Democratic party is acting like a crybaby on these matters," the Michigan senator said. "Some of the Democrats are saying that if we criticize their past mistakes, they are going to pick up their marbles and go home and not cooperate on foreign policy."

Reds Won't Give Up In Guatemala

By CARLOS R. ESCUDERO

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—Guatemala's rival anti-Communist chieftains haggled until nearly dawn today in a vain effort to agree on a peace settlement which would give their war-split land its fourth government in a week.

The peace talks between rebel Col. Carlos Castillo Armas and Col. Elfego Monzon, head of Guatemala's new governing junta, broke up at 3:35 a.m. Castillo Armas announced he was returning to his rebel headquarters at Chiquimula.

El Salvador's President Oscar Osorio, acting as mediator, voiced optimism that a settlement could be reached

But real peace seemed remote as Monzon's junta rushed troops to Communist strong points in Guatemala where vengeful Red leaders were reported trying to foment peasant uprisings. Red-indoctrinated farm workers were said to be inciting revolt in Escuintla, Pinula and Concepcion, hotbeds of communism about 30 miles from Guatemala City.

Heckler Killed In Detroit Feud

DETROIT (AP)—A neighborhood feud erupted in gunfire that fatally wounded an eccentric auto worker and a heckling teenager last night. A young girl also was shot in both legs.

William Kursman, 67, died today in receiving hospital of a bullet wound in his left eye, a dozen hours, police said, after he shot and killed Douglas Dudley, 18, and seriously wounded Barbara Kubbe, 16.

Tests were scheduled today to determine whether Kursman was hit by a police bullet or took his own life.

Police said Kursman did all the firing, until they arrived, but that Dudley had a butcher knife. Kursman barricaded himself in his home. Tear gas and bullets were pumped into it. Then police broke down the door and found Kursman on the floor, wounded.

Neighbors told police there had been a running, shouting feud between Kursman and neighborhood youngsters for years. They said his wife left him four years ago.

Sales Tax Revenue In Michigan Tops 276 Million Estimate

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's sales tax collections for the fiscal year ended Wednesday topped the 276 million dollar budget estimate by $500,000.

Walter F. Reddy, deputy state tax commissioner, said June collections on May retail business totaled $25,074,314 for sales and use taxes, compared to approximately 24 million dollars in the preceding month.

The use tax, which is not divided with local governments as is the sales tax, produced a total of $13,186,000 for the closing fiscal year, Reddy said.

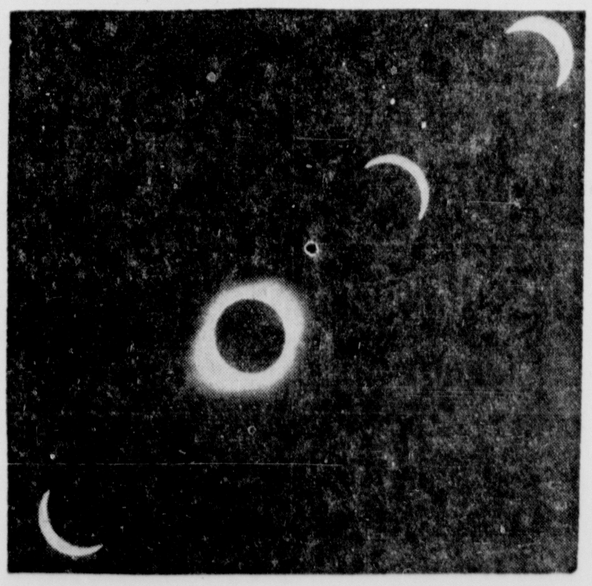

This meant a total of 290 million dollars collected by the state on retail sales in the year.

Weather Hits High Of 86 Here

The highest temperature Escanaba residents have experienced this year was recorded here yesterday when the mercury reached 86 degrees S. E. Decker of the Escanaba Weather Bureau, reported today.

Temperatures dropped sharply today, however, with an expected high of 65 by mid-afternoon. The temperature will drop to 50 tonight. This will be caused by a mass of cool air moving eastward toward the upper lake region from Canada, Decker said.

Fair and pleasant weather is forecast for tonight and tomorrow with the temperatures having a tendency of warming tomorrow.

In forecasting the weather for Saturday and Sunday, Mr. Decker pointed out that showers are developing in the west and are slowly moving eastward. He said, "if they should strike the Escanaba area, scattered showers should start by late Saturday night and continue on through Sunday."

According to weather bureau records, the average temperature for the month of June was 62 degrees, about one degree above normal. The mercury dropped to a low for the month twice, both on June 2 and 28, recording a cool 43.

Almost half the month, Escanaba had rain with only seven clear days on record. The rainfall for last month amounted to 4.08 inches, approximately four inches under last year's figure. The heaviest rainfall for a single day in June this year was 1.09 inches on the 24th as compared to last year when on June 30, 3.92 inches of rain fell.

Economic Future Of Escanaba Is Bright, Business Survey Reveals

The economic future of Escanaba and the surrounding area is generally bright, a survey of industrial conditions locally indicates.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway project provides a tremendous opportunity for improving industrial propects here and the construction of the Mackinac Straits Bridge opens new avenues for both resort development and for business and industrial expansion.

The Harnischfeger Company's two plants in Escanaba are employing more than 700 persons, Robert Losse, manager, reported. The company's military contract for the manufacture of crawlers will run through November. This contract has been a major help in avoiding the usual summer slump, Losse said.

54-Hr. Work Week

The Shepeck Dimension Company at Wells now is employing the largest crew in the company's history, Hubert Shepeck, manager, said. The company is operating on a 54 hour work week. The market for dimension stock is holding strong and the furniture market, closing in Chicago last Saturday, was strong, indicating a continued demand for dimension material.

The demand for coated paper, manufactured at the Escanaba Paper Company plant at Groos, also is strong although the market for other grades of paper has slipped somewhat, the company's recent statement to shareholders indicated.

Two local industries, the Birds Eye Veneer Company and the C&NW Railroad, have reported a decline in employment. The problem at the Birds Eye is one of foreign competition from cheaper labor markets, primarily Japan and Finland, Russell Lee, company official, reported.

Need Tariff Protection

"The veneer and plywood industry cannot improve until anti-dumping laws are established in our tariffs," Lee said. The Birds Eye officer stated that the attitude of the U. S. State Department in encouraging foreign imports at the expense of local industry is the major problem today in the veneer and plywod industry in America.

The ore business has slackened this year in Escanaba and railroad employment locally has decreased proportionately, George Stuart, C&NW superintendent here reported.

Because of high ore inventories at the steel mills, it is anticipated that ore shipping on the Great Lakes will end this year either on Nov. 1 or Nov. 15, somewhat earlier than in past years.

New Deisels Coming

However, the railroad is scheduling a major project to start next spring, the equipping of its car repair department so that this work may be done inside in the future. The railroad roundhouse will be fitted for this project, Stuart said.

Ten new Diesel locomotives will be delivered here in July to supplement eight Diesels received in May and June. This will probably eliminate the use of steam locomotives on the Peninsula division, Stuart said.

The real note of optimism, however, stems from the settlement of the threatened steel strike. The Escanaba ore operations would have been shut down completely in the event of a steel strike, Stuart reported, but this threat was averted with the settlement of the steel labor contract dispute.

The efforts for industrial expansion continue through the work of the industrial committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the City of Escanaba and local business and industrial leaders.

Waterways Development

Stuart reported that the railroad is now seeking to locate in Escanaba a small industry that will employ about a dozen persons. The industry will be helpful to the railroad and to the city, he reported.

The importance of Escanaba in the waterways development program is recognized by the state highway waterways authority. Here in Escanaba the city is creating its own port authority so that Escanaba can take advantage of the opportunities that will be developed by the St. Lawrence seaway project.

Plans for the construction of a four-lane highway between Escanaba and Gladstone are well advanced and work on this project is expected to begin within the coming year.

Indicative of economic sability is the report of bank debits from the Federal Reserve District which reflects a rising increase in business activity locally for this year over the corresponding period of 1953.

More Electric Power

Still another indication of local prosperity is the fact that assessed valuations of real and personal property in Escanaba have doubled in the postwar period, from 1945 to 1954.

Of primary importance in the outlook for industrial expansion here is the certain construction of new electric generating capacity in this area to meet the expanding needs of the area. The REA has authorized a loan of more than $8,000,000 for electric generating expansion by the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative The City of Gladstone is proceeding with the construction of another electric plant and the City of Escanaba likewise is considering the possibility of constructing an electric generating plant.

The area's need for more electric power must be met before any considerable industrial expansion may be instituted, industrial surveys have shown.

4-H Service Club To Install New Officers Tonight

At a meeting of the 4-H Service club to be held tonight in the dining hall at the fair grounds, officers for the coming year will be installed, says Fred Bernhardt 4-H Club leader.

To be installed as president will be Robert Dahlvik of Ford River. Other officers include: Arlene Woodard, Cornell, vice president; Clinton Sundquist, Pine Ridge, secretary and Dianne Dahlvik, Ford River as treasurer.

At the meeting the service club intends to adopt a program for the coming year which has been outlined by a planning committee. Financial support of the International Farm Youth Exchange program and the Salvation Army will head the list to be discussed.

Other items to be talked on are 4-H achievement days, Camp Harstad and the upkeep of the 4-H Club buildings at the fairgrounds.

The summer educational program will include a series of meetings on driver safety and social relationship will be taken up with the winter activities.

The service club is a county-wide organization open to 4-H club members 15 years of age and older who have been club members for at least three years.

Hearing Held On Power Contract

A motion to dismiss the petition for a power rate increase was made by City Attorney Denis McGinn at a public Service Commission hearing here Wednesday.

Attorney McGinn based his motion on the argument that the Public Service Commission had no jurisdiction in the matter and, therefore, could not act on it.

He stated that by law the Commission could not change or fix rates where a contract exists.

Replying to the motion, Attorney J. Joseph Hebert, counsel for the Upper Michigan Power and Light Co., argued that the Commission did have jurisdiction.

His argument was that the contract between the City and the power company was invalid from the outset because it extended for a period longer than ten years.

Attorney Herbert cited the law which prohibits a municipality from entering into an agreement which runs longer than ten years.

The hearing was adjourned by Public Service Commission Chairman John H. McCarthy at the end of the oral arguments. Both attorneys will file written arguments to the Commission by July 1.

Assistant Attorney General Louis Caruso, attended the hearing as a representative of the State of Michigan and an impartial observer.

Residence Ransacked

GUATEMALA (AP) — Police say the plush residence of leftist ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman has been ransacked of everything but some stale rolls and empty bottles in the kitchen—and a big pile of Communist literature stacked in the front lobby. Arbenz disappeared immediately after resigning last Sunday and is believed to have sought asylum in the Mexican Embassy here.

Dimension Plant At Baraga Is Destroyed By Fire

BARAGA—Fire Wednesday afternoon destroyed the dimension plant of Soli Forest Products here. The plant was burned to the ground.

The fire started about 12:05 p. m. when the working force was having lunch outside the mill. One of the employes noticed the blaze and went to investigate. The Baraga and L'Anse fire departments were summoned, but the fire had progressed too far to permit them to halt it.

All of the machinery in the mill was destroyed, along with thousands of feet of dry kiln lumber inside and outside the plant.

Built in 1951, the mill employed as many as 60 men at one time.

Marquette Man Loading Bulldozer Fatally Injured

MARQUETTE — Orval Earl Lambert, of Marquette, was fatally injured at 7 Tuesday evening when a bulldozer fell off a truck on North Eighth St., a few blocks from his home. He was 20 years old.

City police said the youth and his father, William Lambert, had loaded the bulldozer onto the platform truck from a high banking on Eighth St.

The youth had attempted to adjust the position of the vehicle on the truck, when it accidentally went off the truck, crushing him. He was killed instantly.

His father was in the cab of the truck when the accident happened. The truck was not moving at the time.

Coroner Marvin P. Fassbender said no inquest would be held, saying the cause of death was accidental. A similar "industrial" accident occurred here on May 14, when a bulltozer slipped out of position and crushed a worker off of West Washington St.

Better Check Your Election Registration; July 6 Last Day

ARE you properly registered to vote in the Michigan primary election Aug. 3?

The deadline for registration for the primary is Tuesday, July 6. Thus you still have several days in which to register if you are not already a qualified voter in Michigan.

Many persons erroneously believe that if they have ever voted in a state election in Michigan, they are properly qualified to vote in the August primary. This is not true, of course, because Michigan election laws require that a voting registration remains valid only if the elector votes at least once every two years.

Registration clerks are required by law to remove from the registration rolls the names of all persons who have failed to exercise the election franchise within the past two years.

Unless you are sure that you have voted in a Michigan election within the past two years, you had better check on your regsitration now. If you have moved to a new address since your last voting experience, it is essential that you notify the clerk of your change in address.

Remember, you cannot vote in the primary election unless you are properly registered. And the deadline for registration is July 6. That's next Tuesday.

If you have been a resident of Michigan for six months and a resident of Escanaba for 30 days, are 21 years old or more, you can vote in the primary election Aug. 3. That is, you can, provided you register with the city clerk on or before July 6.

Nunan Convicted Of Tax Evasion

THE conviction of Joseph D. Nunan Jr., former commissioner of internal revenue, on a charge of income tax evasion, is an act of pure justice even though it is ironical.

Nunan was head of the internal revenue department from 1944 to 1947, serving under the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. As the internal revenue commissioner, Nunan was the nation's No. 1 tax collector in the closing period of World War II and the early postwar years. Now he finds himself convicted of violating the tax laws which for several years it was his paramount duty to enforce.

The millions of Americans who have paid out billions of dollars in federal taxes, mostly from comparatively small earnings, cannot help but feel a sense of gratification that justice has been served on Nunan. The federal court jury convicted Nunan on all five counts of an indictment and the federal judge told the jurors that the conviction was "justified by the evidence."

A charge of perjury is still pending against Nunan.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

" have been looking through my grandmother's cookbook, newly discovered in our attic, and I find several references to 'forcemeat.' My present-day cookbooks mention forcemeat balls to use as garnish to soups, but that obviously isn't what the old book meant," writes a San Diego housewife. "Am I right in thinking that 'forcemeat' originally was used as a stuffing, rather than as a garnish?"

Indeed you are correct, Madam, although I must say I'm a trifle surprised that you addressed your letter to this department, rather than to the cooking editor. The fact is, though that forcemeat is at least as interesting to a word expert as to a master cook. For forcemeat believe it or not, comes from the same root as the dramatic term "farce" and both originally meant the same thing—stuffing.

During the Middle Ages it was the custom of acting companies to insert a brief, rowdy and highly comic interlude between the acts of the main drama. These short pieces were figuratively "stuffed" between sections of the performance and so were called "farces" from the French word for stuffing.

"Farcemeat"—finely chopped and seasoned meat or fish used as stuffing—in the possibly through confusion with the totally possibly through confusion wit hthe totally unrelated word "force"—since, as anyone who has stuffed a 20-pound turkey knows, a certain amount of force is involved in the operation.

Nowadays a forcemeat stuffing is occasionally encountered, especially among items from the haute cuisine like "chaudfroid of boned chicken"—a dish which the average housewife would have neither the energy nor the patience to prepare. But forcemat balls as garnish for soups rank—according to my palate, at any rate—among the true culinary delights and, my helpmeet advises, they are not at all difficult to make.

So you see, there's really nothing farcical about forcemeat and if this piece serves no better purpose than to send a few housewives back to their cookbooks to experiment with forcemeat garnishes for their soup dishes, some lucky families' dinner tables will be the richer for it.

THE GOOD NEW DAYS
(The Iron Mountain News)

The "good old days" are supposed to have been around 1910. The prices of commodities at that time are forever being cited in nostalgic comparisons of the cost of living. However, there has been a real gain for the working man that belies the "good old days."

That gain is job opportunity. There are more and better jobs.

The Census Bureau, in an analysis of how jobs have changed in the last four decades, passes along this information:

White collar workers have increased from 21 to 37 per cent.

Farm workers have dropped from 31 to 12 per cent.

Foremen and skilled workers have gone up from 12 to 14 per cent.

Semi-skilled workers have gone up from 15 to 28 per cent.

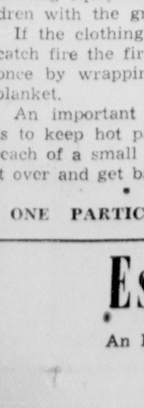

Common laborers have dropped from 14 to 6 per cent.

Servants have dropped from 7 to only 3 per cent.

Questions and Answers

Q—The Supreme Court says the federal lobbying law is Constitutional. Just what does that law do?

A—The 1946 Federal Regulation of Lobbing Act requires "lobbyists" to register with Congress and tell who is employing them, how much they are spending, and the like. A majority of the high court in upholding certain parts of the law ruled that a person must seek or receive contributions to influence legislation before it becomes necessary for him to register. The tribunal also defined "lobbying" to mean only "direct communication with Members of Congress on pending or proposed federal legislation." The court didn't rule on whether the law's penalties for failing to register are Constitutional.

Safe Driving, Safe Home, Will Save the Lives of Tiny Tots

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

It is appalling and tragic how many accidental deaths there are among tiny children.

Among those from 1 to 4 years of age about 5500 deaths or one-fourth of all of those deaths in children of these ages in the United States and Canada occur each year as the result of accidents of one kind or another.

The majority of these—that is about one-half of the total number—are the result of motor vehicle accidents and this was half as bad again in Canada as in the United States.

DEATH from burns of various origins, from drowning, from accidental swallowing of poisons and from other usually avoidable mishaps are also too common among these toddlers.

What can be done to halt this massacre of the innocents? The greatest possible care in driving motor vehicles, especially if small children are expected to be around is obviously needed.

In the case of burns obviously the most effective method is to keep fire or fire making equipment away from small children with the greatest of care.

If the clothing of a child actually does catch fire the fire should be smothered at once by wrapping the child in a rug or blanket.

An important preventive measure also is to keep hot pans on the stove out of reach of a small youngster who might tip it over and get badly scalded.

* * *

ONE PARTICULARLY heart-rending type of injury to small children is that which results when they get hold of some poison in a bottle in the medicine cabinet or elsewhere and try to drink it.

If poisonous liquids or solids must be kept around the house they should always be placed beyond the possible reach of the curious youngster.

If a child does swallow poison, vomiting should be brought about at once by placing the finger down the child's throat (this with the exception of lye or kerosene poisoning).

Naturally, the poison bottle should be kept so that the doctor will know what the child has taken, and professional advice should be obtained at once.

* * *

ANOTHER SOURCE of death or injury to small children comes from falls. Not infrequently a small child will lean against a window screen and if this is loose may fall out and be severely injured. Check your screens.

These are only a few of the injuries which can occur to small children—and older ones as well of course—and certainly an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

For a most convenient and brief pamphlet on emergency measures in the event of injury and for a safety check list around the home I know of nothing better than the accident handbook compiled by members of the staff of the Children's Medical Center, 300 Longwood Avenue, Boston 15, Mass. Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

KANSAS CITY—It was Harry Truman's determination never to let down a friend, even a controversial friend, that contributed in part to his illness.

His doctors didn't advertise it, but for some time the ex-President has been somewhat under the weather. To them his sudden seizure in the wings of the "Call Me Madam" performance was not entirely a surprise. They had tried to get him to curtail his activities, and strongly advised that he cancel a date he had made with his old friend, James Petrillo, head of the Musicians Union, to attend the Musicians' annual convention in Milwaukee.

Months ago Petrillo had invited Truman to be the union's guest of honor and to play a little piano-trumpet duet together. It was an event calculated to make musical headlines, and both Truman and the head of the Musicians Union were looking forward to it.

However, when Truman's doctors told him he would have to curtail his activities until cooler weather, he reluctantly sent Petrillo his regrets. The show, he said, was off.

But a few days later, Truman overruled his doctors and sent a telegram to Petrillo that he would be on deck. The show, he said, "must go on."

Asked for explanation, Harry Truman had a simple answer; "As long as I live I will never forget what Jimmy Petrillo and his men did for me in the 1948 election. He was one of those who did not let me down. And I can't let a good friend like him down now."

K. C.'s MOST-LOVED MAN

Sentiment has changed a lot around Kansas City regarding Harry Truman. There was a time, about two years ago, when the little K. C. haberdasher who became President of the United States was criticized and scoffed at up and down the streets of the city that sent him to Washington . . . but not today. Today, he is the most-loved man in Kansas City . . . Some people thought he could never settle down in the ol' home town after the glamor of Washington, after a private yacht on the Potomac, a retinue of servants and bodyguards. But he has settled down as comfortably as in an old shoe . . . Some of Truman's friends raised a little money to hire a bodyguard for his days as ex-President, but Harry hasn't needed him, doesn't want him . . . and if anyone around Kansas City ever thought of touching a hair of Harry Truman's head, no police could ever protect him . . . HST once confided to Garrett Smalley of the Kansas City news press the reason why he didn't have air cooling in the White House. "I don't mind air cooling," he said, "but if I had it in here people would stay too long" . . . It was Mrs. Truman who overruled her husband's old-fashioned views on air cooling the other day and insisted that the hospital move him from Kansas City's 100-degree heat in an ordinary room, into an air-cooled room.

LOYALTY CAUSED TROUBLES

When I was in Kansas City last January interviewing the former President for television he told me something that illustrates his ideas about gratitude and friends. Perhaps also it shows some comparisons with the McCarthy committee.

It's not exactly a secret that for a long time President Truman had no great regard for me, but, it was not known how far he sometimes carried that "lack of affection." Once, however, he almost turned thumbs down on Clayton Fritchey for a position on the White House staff because Fritchey knew me.

I had known Fritchey first when he was on the Cleveland Press, later as editor of the New Orleans item, later as a public-relations adviser to the secretary of defense. But when Fritchey cam up for appointment as a White House secretary, Howard McGrath, then attorney general, warned the President that Fritchey and I were friends. (McGrath's Justice Department had been tapping my phone.)

So Harry Truman asked Fritchey how well he knew me. "Of course Pearson is a friend of mine," Clayton replied. "But that isn't going to interfere with my work. You have your friends too, some of whom I may not approve of, but I'm not going to ask you to give up your friends."

Truman's loyalty to friends of course was what caused him more trouble than anything else in the White House. Clayton got the job.

NOTABLE MEMORY

Last January, about three years later, I was in Harry Truman's office in Kansas City. It is lined with books, chiefly history books. He had been reading the works of previous Presidents, even as he did while in the White House, and was dictating his own memoirs. Every day, he said, he dictated a chapter or so of his book, then had a staff of research men, who had been looking over his records, pull it to pieces, check it backward and forward, to make sure every detail jibed.

The ex-President seemed relaxed, happy, very much at home. He didn't seem to miss the glamor, the excitement of Washington at all—which is rare for a man who has spent a third of a century in politics.

Discarded streetcars are sold in some towns for living quarters. Imagine mom hanging over the kitchen stove on a strap.

Parents soon will find out that taking children to a summer cabin is a mighty fine way to keep on being tired out.

Smallest Paris Artist Longs For Canary-Yellow Slacks

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Habitues of the one-time existentialist cafes of Saint Germaindes-Pres are all familiar with "Poucette," the smallest (four-foot-nine) artist since Toulouse-Laurec.

For the last three years she has made her appearance every evening among the clients on the sidewalk terraces, offering for sale the water-colors she had painted during the day.

"Poucette" is 19, a pretty, slender, blue-eyed blonde. She refuses to be known by any other name but this one out of a French fairytale "because it has brought her a certain amount of fame." She never wears anything but the standard dress of the "village"—blue jeans and a sweater.

The Left Bank "Tom Thumb" really started her career by selling a progressive weekly. It's title was "The Uprising of Youth," but unfortunately for Poucette it was shortlived.

* * *

Poucette lives in a tiny room on the top floor of a very modest Left Bank hotel. Here she executes her canvasses—flat on the table because there is no room for an easel.

She explains her operation thus: "Every afternoon I paint and in the evening I devote two or three hours to selling my pictures. I get around six dollars apiece and always manage to sell at least one. It's an amusing way to make a living and I meet all sorts of interesting people."

Recently she graduated from water colors to oils and now has a one-man show in a gallery on the swank Faubourg Saint Honore. Her prices have gone up accordingly to between $60 and $360.

Art critics have not been too unkind to Poucette. But one brave anonymous visitor expressed his opinion most emphatically in the visitor's book: "A good hiding would not hurt her. Poucette is the kind of brat who eventually goes back to Pop and Mom and security after having lived her life."

Two of the more conservative cafes have closed their doors to Poucette, judging that her art and general syle are incompatible with their clients' mood. When asked about this, Poucette, who was raised in a convent school, shrugs her shoulders and laughs.

The little French girl is determined to continue her artistic career. She has already played bit parts in a couple of movies, but a career in the cinema does not tempt her. The success of her show and a certain amount of publicity is one reason for this decision.

* * *

"Now that I have crossed the river and been invited to Deauville for the season, I will be able to sell my pictures for at least $25," is the way she calculates.

With the proceeds of her sales Poucette will be able to fulfill at least one of her ambitions — acquire a pair of custom-made doeskin slacks.

"Canary yellow," she adds, "because you see, they will have two definite advantages. One is they will inevitably attract attention, and the other is that they never will wear out."

AT A LEFT BANK CAFE TERRACE, Poucette shows afternoon's production of water colors to a somewhat disinterested patron.

A real working studio is another of her dreams.

Like every star, Paucette owns a clipping book and a little black notebook in which 2000 names are listed—her buyers and the 34 men who have proposed marriage to her. According to her these range from politicians to American sailors.

Roman Circi

"The following somewhat plagiarizes the impressions of a newspaper reporter from Denver, Colo. . . . He visited the McCarthy-Army hearings and likened them to a Roman holiday. The coliseum . . . is jammed with spectators who have come to see somebody thrown to the lions . . . One end of the arena is for the combatants, their seconds, sword carriers, stoolies, bootboys, valets and pawns . . . The chief gladiator of them all —(Sen.) Joe McCarthy (R Wis.)— sits at the table with a look of Horatio-at-the-bridge. Pilate is Sen. Karl (E.) Mundt (R S.D.) in his temporary job as impressario of the Circus Maximus. He spends a great deal of time washing his hands and making speeches about fair play. The other chief gladiator—Army Secretary (Robert T.) Stevens—looks pale, patient, and shaken. They haggle, argue, dig, scratch, kick, snort, cut, slash, turn cheeks. The television cameras blink and stare with red and flashing eye."—Rep. Omar Burleson (D Tex.), May 20 Newsletter.

Education And Catastrophe

"'Human history,' wrote H. G. Wells in 1920, 'becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe' . . . the United States has been suddenly thrust into a position of world leadership . . . we do not always demonstrate our fitness to assume this role. The proper exercise of this leadership demands a maturity, stability, and unity which . . . come only with understanding. Such understanding comes only with education . . . the quality of American education may prove more important than the variety or number of weapons we produce."—Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. (R N.J.).

Federal Squatters

"If the Administration favors the states shouldering more of the functions of government, it should first do more shouldering of the tax burdens its presence imposes . . . In Arlington (Va) alone, Uncle Sam squats on 17½ per cent of the total land area . . . States like Virginia just can't afford to give free lodging indefinitely to Uncle Sam."—Rep. Joel T. Broyhill (R Va.), May 10 news release.

Foreign Service

"I wonder . . . whether we are getting the kind of reports from our foreign service officers on which sound decisions can be based, or whether these post-mortem investigations of foreign policy are resulting in foreign servic officers wording their reports in a way that they think will be pleasing to Washington."—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.), May 10 Senate speech.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Sweeping changes in the $20-billion-a-year automobile industry trade practices may be in the makig from an investigation by the anti- making from an investigation by the antitice.

First steps in this reform have already been taken. It will be many months before the business surveys are completed, however. Ultimately it is possible new legislation will be asked for to regulate what has become one of America's largest industries.

The automobile industry has always been under the eye of government agencies like Treasury, Justice and Federal Trade Commission. But an increasing number of complaints from automobile dealers themselves in the past year has stepped up anti-trust division investigation.

In general, the dealers complain that they have been put under increasing pressure by the manufacturers during the business recession in which car sales have been down.

* * *

JUDGE STANLEY N. BARNES, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, says his investigation now covers seven different fields of automobile industry trade practices.

The scope of this investigation is fairly obvious to anyone who has been at all aware of what has been going on in Auto Row during the past year or so.

General Motors today has approximately 45 per cent of the business and Ford has about 32 per cent.

The rivalry between these two—now controlling over three fourths of the business—for still greater supremacy has made competition from smaller companies extremely difficult. Though there are now 18 makes of cars, General Motors has five, Chrysler four, Ford three. Kaiser and Willys have merged. Nash and Hudson have merged. And the Packard - Studebaker merger wipes out the last two independents.

* * *

IN THIS PROCESS the control of the manufacturers over the distributors has become much tighter.

While it is recognized that the manufacturers have to sell cars to keep going, attempts to force sales beyond what the market will take have worked hardships on many dealers.

While there is fierce competition among dealers, restraints in dealer franchises are criticized as not permitting the kind of free competition which lets prices fall for the benefit of the ultimate consumer, who is the car buyer.

This has resulted in the "bootlegging" of new cars as used cars so that dealers can get rid of the quotas forced on them by manufacturers.

Instead of running speedometers backward to make used cars seem newer, the trick now is to run speedometers forward so that dealers can unload unsold new cars as used cars.

In mid-April Department of Justice refused to approve a General Motors "railroad release" which would have permitted GM to buy back from its dealers any unsold cars, to prevent their being bootlegged at cut prices. This was the first move on the government's part toward an overhaul of the industry.

* * *

CONTROL OVER PARTS manufacture and sale is also under scrutiny by Department of Justice investigators.

In January General Motors introduced a new practice whereby it sold its parts to its own dealers exclusively. Sales to independent parts jobbers and warehouses were discontinued. This forced the "alley garages" to buy parts from GM dealers.

Ford and Chrysler have long operated under similar practices. The system helps dealer sales volume.

But when GM began this, many of the independent jobbers began to fear that they would be forced out of business. So here was another field for antimonopolistic investigation.

In May the National Automotive Parts Association, a combination of some 25 warehouses jobbers, was forced by the Department of Justice to discontinue monopolistic controls over the output of favored parts manufacturers. The consent decree by which this restraint of trade was broken up grew out of an antitrust action begun in 1950.

Aunt Molly Harmsworth never could understand why they call them public parks and then put up signs all over the place warning folks to keep off the grass.

Islands Keys In China War

WASHINGTON — The island-studded waters off the east China coast have become the scene of a little known but prolonged conflict between Chinese Red and the Nationalist partisans.

A recent Red foray in the series of hit-and-run raids and small naval engagements centered on a key Nationalist station in the Tachen archipelago, 220 miles north of Formosa.

The main prizes are bases in a 500-mile chain of islands along the shores of Fukien and Chekiang Provinces, says the National Geographic Society.

These points offer stepping stones that could be used either for an invasion of the Chinese mainland or for an assault on the Formosa stronghold of the Nationalists. So far the Nationalist islands have been used to harry Red positions, collect intelligence, and maintain a partial naval blockade.

A Seagoing People

High and rugged mountains separate coastal villages and their offshore islands from the China interior. Occasionally, narrow, stepped paths lead into the highlands. But there are few through roads, and in many places traffic is all but impossible.

Except for a short line from the port of Swatow, no railways reach inland between Britain's Hong Kong on the far south and Hangchow and Shanghai to the north. Cultivated plains are rare along this rocky shore, and the small, infrequent farms often climb in terraces to the hill tops.

Thus most people of the heavily populated coast look to the sea for their food and livelihood. Many live on houseboats tied up in deep inlets. They are sailors skilled in coping with windstorms and torrential rains that frequently batter the region.

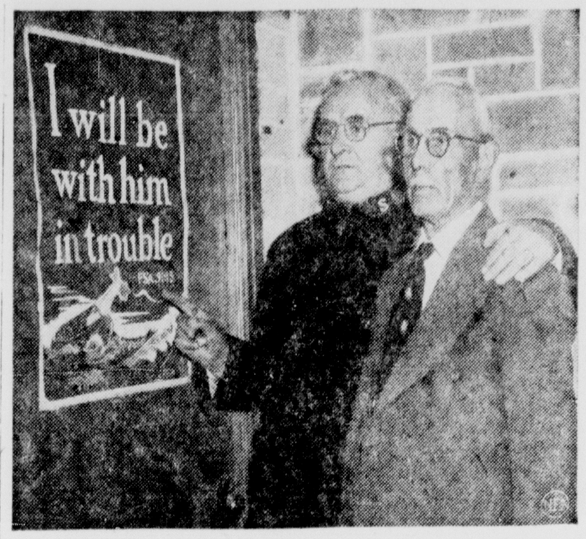

The late summer typhoon season annually threatens life and property—a factor to be heeded by military strategists.

Enemies Side by Side

It is estimated the Nationalists now hold between 25 and 30 islands. Some of the most important are surprisingly near mainland Red ports.

Nationalist Quemoy and Little Quemoy, for instance, lie just outside the harbor of Amoy. Matsu Tao, farther north, is on the approaches to mainland Minhow, and the Tachen Island group spreads across the bay leading to Linhai.

Near the Tachens another Nationalist island has a curious status. Called "Traders' Island," it is a privileged spot to which merchants from the Red mainland — with permission from both sides — bring pots, pans and watermelon seeds to be exchanged for fish.

LIFE'S PUZZLE — After 57 years in prison, Lyman William Hall, 81, right, is welcomed to the Salvation Army Industrial Center by Maj. Arvis Hamilton. Hall, who went to prison in 1897 said changes in women and their fashions amaze him most but he's puzzled by one other thing, "Who the Sam Hill is this fellow McCarthy?" He expects to start life anew by helping others at the Salvation Army's social center in Chicago, Ill.

Bakery Union Votes Strike

Employes of the Hoyler and Baur Bakery, members of the Teamsters Union, last night voted unanimously to refuse to accept the employer's proposal to reduce wages, the union has reported. A strike vote followed in support of the union's position.

When the dispute developed the union notified the state and federal conciliation agencies and requested their assistance in mediating the dispute. Meetings were held during the past week but the issues have not yet been resolved.

The company proposed a reduction of wages of five dollars per week to sales drivers and ten cents per hour in all classifications of inside employes.

"Interstate Commerce"

The company has contended that it is engaged in interstate commerce to the extent that comes within the scope of the Taft-Hartley Act, Arnold Alsteen of the Teamsters Union, reported.

Because the company maintains that the federal statute applies, the state Labor Mediation Board has advised that it would not cause a strike election to be held but would make their services available upon request of the parties concerned.

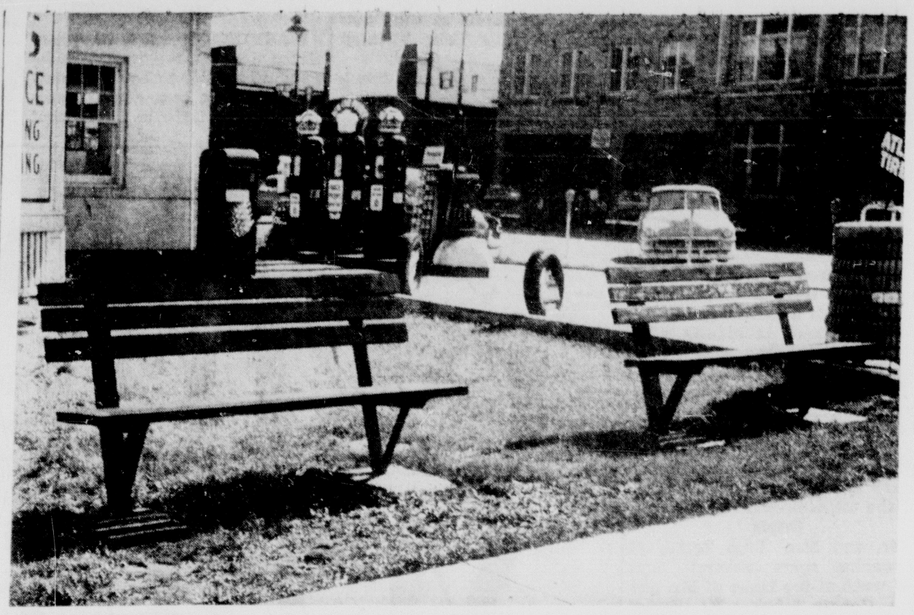

The union contends that it is mandatory for the company under the federal labor act to furnish the union with financial data to substantiate their position. The union has made a written request for this data, according to Alsteen but the company has not yet provided the information.

Bakery Explains Stand

G. W. Rusch, director of human relations for the baking company, issued the following statement in connection with the dispute:

"The reason that a cut is made necessary is due to our inequitable competitive position with other bakeries in the Upper Peninsula.

"In comparison to our major competitors, we pay between 15c and 30c more per hour for inside employes. On our sales drivers, the difference amounts to $20 to $25 per week on a route of $1,000 of sales."

WEARY SHOPPERS and visitors will have a spot to stop and rest while they are in Escanaba. The city has erected six rustic benches on Ludington St. There are two benches each at the corners of 10th and 11th Streets and another pair in the 1200 block. Trash cans will be added to the sites later. It was hot Wednesday when this picture was taken and shoppers avoided the benches but plenty of useage is expected. (Daily Press Photo)

Charity Bingo Petitions Ready

LANSING (AP)— Sponsors of a movement to legalize "charity" bingo reported today they expected to have sufficient signatures by Friday to place the issue on the November election ballot.

Charles R. Mac Lean, attorney for the Michigan Assn. of charitable organizations, said a preliminary count showed 300,000 signatures on hand and that he expected 305,000 to 325,000 to be ready for filing at the deadline Friday.

The organization needs 287,000 signatures to qualify its proposal for a place on the ballot.

Mac Lean said present plans call for the petitions to be filed before noon Friday.

He said the majority of the signatures came from Wayne County, but that 60 of the state's 83 counties contributed signers.

The campaign seeks to have the voters amend the constitution to legalize lotteries operated by fraternal, charitable, benevolent and similar groups for charitable purposes under rules laid down by the legislature. The State Supreme Court has held that bingo and similar games are lotteries, now forbidden by the state constitution.

Republican Solons Assured Reelection Out In North Dakota

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—North Dakota's two incumbent congressmen-at-large were virtually assured of reelection this fall after winning nomination Tuesday in the state's Republican primary.

Representative Usher Burdick and Otto Krueger ran one-two in that order in the four-man contest.

Also renominated was Gov. Norman Brunsdale, who defeated Wallace Warner, an avowed Democrat backed by the Nonpartisan League faction of the Republican party. Brunsdale is nominal head of the second group, the Republican Organizing Committee.

Democratic candidates had no primary opposition.

Republican nomination virtually assures election in this normally heavily GOP state.

Cornell Youth Is Still Being Held In Burglary Case

Raymond Brunette, 18, Cornell, is still being held in the county jail pending further investigation after undergoing a polygraph test in connection with the burglary of South grocery store at Cornell early Sunday morning.

Brunette was taken to the Marquette State Police post to take a lie detector test yesterday morning by sheriff and state police officers. Conflicting stories which showed up in the test, kept Brunette locked up again over night for further investigation, according to Sheriff William Miron.

Thieves broke a window in the rear of the store, owned by Mrs. Clifford South, early Sunday morning and carried off goods valued at $200. A quantity of clothing, groceries, beer, and cigarettes were taken.

State Police and sheriff's officers were called on the case Monday morning and picked up Brunette after receiving a tip that a car bearing Brunette's license number was seen in the vicinity of the store at the approximate time the burglary took place.

'New Look' In State Government Proposed By Candidate Cleary

"The people of Michigan are demanding a 'New Look' at state government operation," Owen J. (Pat) Cleary, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor declared in a public statement concerning his candidacy.

"I intend to give them a new look as viewed through the eyes of a Republican who would rather be governor of Michigan than President of the United States because our unlimited future as a state presents a tremendous challenge which I believe I am capable of meeting," Cleary said.

"In talking to many people, I found a general dissatisfaction with the constant bickering, fighting and feuding; the name-calling and political harpooning which has stymied the progress of state government for nearly six years. To all intents and purposes, we have been without the services of a governor for this length of time!

"Through cooperative efforts, the quibbling can be turned to harmony; the bickering diverted to direct action, and the political harpooning buried in favor of the Michigan Plan: a blueprint for Michigan's future.

Favors Expressways

"Our Democratic governor says he can build 9,000 miles of primary and 23,000 miles of secondary roads by issuing $500 million in revenue bonds for the state to pay interest on, but for which the people pay nothing. I say he's having another PAC pipe dream! I say we can, and must, build expressways across the state from Bay City to Toledo; Muskegon to Detroit; Detroit to Chicago, and up the center of Michigan to the Mackinac Bridge. The 'Thumb' area, the Upper Peninsula and, in fact, all counties in Michigan, need improved roads. 'Feeder' highways must radiate to every section of the state. My plan is to integrate a system of expressways with toll highways—as a temporary measure—which would become 'freeways' in a few years. This would relieve other fund to build state, county and local roads without increasing gasoline or weight taxes. This is the only logical and practical way to meet our highway needs.

"To get every penny's worth of value from the $1 billion in state and local taxes you pay every year, we must overhaul our tax laws to prevent over-lapping and confusion which causes waste of tax funds. We should encourage and cooperate with local officials in improving tax assessment procedures so that these units of government could be financially stabilized.

"Over 70,000 new students enter our schools every year. We are short 6,500 teachers. More than 50,000 students are getting their education on a half-day basis because of a lack of building space. This means our children are not getting the education to which our Constitution entitles them. We need more schools, more teachers and more money to serve more school children. The state must share the responsibility for solving these problems with local officials For these reasons, I endorse, in principle, the Conlin Plan for division of sales tax funds with schools.

Urges Driver Training

"Another project which I would advocate and strongly urge is for the governor to give impetus to a program of obtaining school scholarship aid for doctors and nurses who would specialize in child psychiatric care and treatment. Michigan took a big step forward when the legislature appropriated funds to build mental hospital facilities in Ann Arbor and Northville.

"Tomorrow's drivers need driver-training today! All our high schools should offer a state sponsored driver-training program. The cost of $1 million dollars could be paid out of general funds or by a very slight increase in the cost of driver licenses. These facilities could be used by students during class hours and by non-students and adults in the evenings. A program of this type would have greatly reduced Michigan's 1,896 traffic fatalities and 57,800 injuries in auto accidents last year.

"Efficiency and economy of operation in all governmental agencies is a must. To accomplish this streamlining, administrative appointments must be based on merit and ability. We must guard against political interference with public employes.

Seaway Offers Challenge

"The St. Lawrence Seaway will bring to Michigan's shores untild wealth, IF! The big "if" can only be fulfilled when we are prepared to accept the challenges involved. The state must come forward with a Michigan Plan for seaport development to take full advantage of the prospect before us.

"Tourist business, mineral resources, industry, state conservation facilities—all must be geared, through state support, to handle the demands of a people living in a new era of economic prosperity. To this end, the state must do all in its power to foster continued growth of present business as well as to seek new industry.

"Non-political administration of Michigan's farm program is essential to the growth of our agricultural economy, which would include further development of extension services, marketing and research programs."

Farmers Take Cut On Meat Animals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices farmers received for their products dropped 4 per cent between mid-May and mid-June, but the decline was felt largely by commodities not directly involved in the congressional battle over farm price supports.

Most of the decline in the farm price index announced Wednesday reflected a decrease of about 17 per cent in prices of hogs and an over-all decrease of 10 per cent in prices of all meat animals. Prices of meat animals are not supported by the government.

Victory Assured For Eisenhower's Tax Revision Bill

not use certain benefits included in the revision bill.

The Republican proposal went down on a 49-46 vote, with all 47 Democrats opposed along with Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Sen. Langer (R-ND). The 46 "ayes" were all from Republicans.

The George amendment was beaten on an identical tally, 49-46. This time four Democrats, Byrd (Va), Holland (Fla), Edwin C. Johnson (Colo) and Robertson (Va), voted "no" because they said the federal pocketbook couldn't stand the revenue loss. Joining George supporters were two Republicans, Langer and Young (ND), and Morse.

The administration fought an income tax cut strongly on the grounds the government could not stand the loss of revenue now. It contends the revision bill as it is carries a balanced program of relief for individuals and business. It would cut taxes about $1,400,000,000 in its first year while changing no major rates.

Only One Proposal For Tax Diversion Goes On Ballots

DETROIT (AP)—The Conlin Plan to revise state sales tax diversion will be the only such proposal on the November ballot.

It got the clear track when the Michigan Committee for Better Schools withdrew its plan Tuesday.

The Conlin Plan, drawn up by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), was placed on the ballot by the 1954 Legislature.

Lansing sources said they understood the better schools committee had failed to secure enough signatures to insure its plan a place on the ballot. The committee said it expected to sponsor the proposal at a later election.

The proposal had been opposed by such powerful political groups as the Michigan Education Assn.

The Conlin Plan is aimed at what state fiscal officers view as the most serious flaw in the state sales tax diversion amendment—that the mandated state aid payment to public schools must be paid out each year on the basis of sales tax collections two years before.

Fiscal officers say this two-year lag will inevitably wreck the state treasury the first time sales taxes fall below previou years' collections.

The Conlin Plan would give the public schools two cents of the three cents sales tax annually and would reserve the remainder for equal division between the state and the municipalities, as now.

With them is the Shoshone Indian girl, Sacagawea, who helped them win the friendship of the Shoshone tribe.

Eight reasons why you are living in

America's Age of Opportunity

America is growing – and changing – at an astonishing rate. Every one of these changes opens up new opportunities for businessmen, for farmers, for housewives, for industrial and office workers. You see below just eight of the many ways our country is changing – and just what these changes mean to you.

THE CHANGE: Our population is expanding tremendously. By 1960 there will be about 180 million people in the U. S.

THE OPPORTUNITY: This means ever-increasing demands for homes and everything that the American people eat, wear and enjoy.

THE CHANGE: In spite of higher prices, Americans now have over twice as much spending power as in 1940. And savings are at an all-time high.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Whatever you make, whatever goods or services you sell, the public now has greater power to buy.

THE CHANGE: We're going suburban. New suburban communities are springing up like magic all over the U. S.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Each suburb needs scores of new shops and service businesses – to say nothing of houses, streets, schools.

THE CHANGE: We've more leisure time and travel time. Over 40 million Americans now have paid vacations.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Big demand for highway restaurants and shops. Also boom to hotel and travel business, to sports, hobby, entertainment fields.

THE CHANGE: Today Americans are buying far more newspapers and magazines. Almost every home has a radio, and 28,000,000 have TV.

THE OPPORTUNITY: As our horizons broaden, we develop new wants. Demand steadily rises for all types of goods and services.

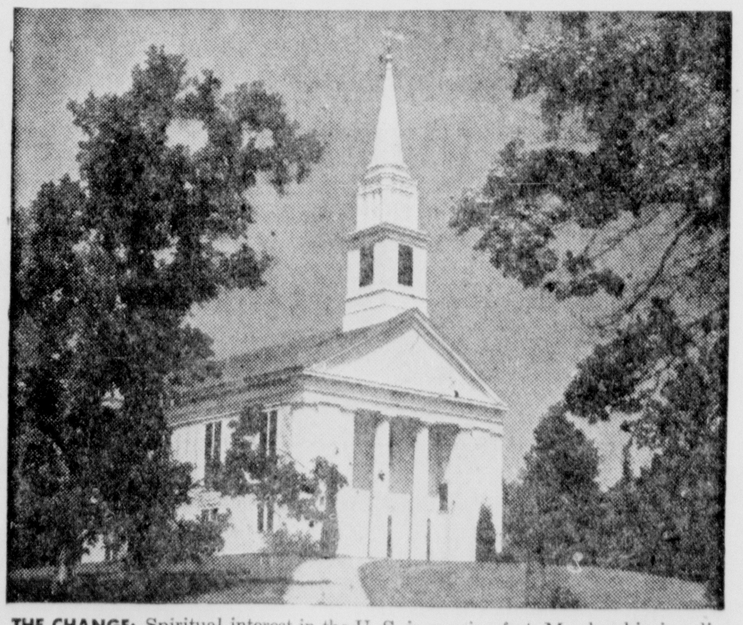

THE CHANGE: America is making fantastic strides in jet propulsion, electronics and atomic energy.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Completely new fields are now being opened up – fields that can change America as greatly as did the steam engine and electricity.

THE CHANGE: Due to the war and to our amazing growth, there is now a $500 billion backlog of demand for capital goods and services.

THE OPPORTUNITY: New construction – schools, factories, highways, houses and offices – are needed now as never before.

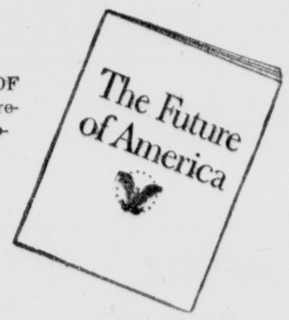

THE CHANGE: Spiritual interest in the U. S. is growing fast. Membership in religious congregations has increased twice as fast as our population.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Our spiritual gains can help us to lead richer, fuller lives – and help us to make the most of our material gains.

Take No Action On Blacktop Bid

Only one bid for the blacktopping of a group of local street projects was received by the City of Gladstone, it was reported to the City Commission by City Manager H. J. Henrikson.

This came from the Thornton Construction Co., of Hancock and was for $9.50 per ton. This topped last year's unit cost by $1.00 per ton.

The matter was tabled for the time when the city manager disclosed that it may be possible to get the work done at a considerably lower cost by a firm which will do some work for the county this summer.

A petition for blacktopping of North Sixth from Delta to Superior was received and public hearing set for July 12. This could not possibly be blacktopped this year and property owners involved were to be contacted to learn if they would consider concrete which could be done without waiting for traffic packing.

City Property Use

In connection with possible use of recently acquired city property at the east end of the city, the commission was advised that it may be possible to get the Federal Housing Administration to make a plat of the area and to suggest various uses.

This, it was intimated would facilitate the financing of homes in the area either through FHA or GI loans.

Copper Mines Bring New Life To Calumet

Editors's Note—Earl J. Gagnon, feature writer of the Houghton Mining Gazette, wrote the 20th in an Associated Press series on the accomplishments and problems of Michigan cities since the end of World War II.

By EARL J. GAGNON
Houghton Mining Gazette
Feature Writer

CALUMET (AP)—Calumet's roots are 6,000 feet down and sprouting with a new vigor expected to extend at least through 1962.

Copper—the metallic life's blood of this Upper Peninsula community—still is a rich item on the world market. Calumet and Hecla Co., a mining firm, is reopening its Osceola shaft in the constant search for a new supply of raw ore.

The mine originally was opened in 1873. Some 66 dividends, totaling $9,343,250, were paid to the mine's stockholders until 1910.

The Osceola shaft was abandoned in 1931 because of a poor world market.

Cluster of 8 Towns

Its post World War II revival, expected within a month, will feature electric and diesel - powered equipment to speed operations and absorb employes who will filter in from other C and H mines whose copper supply becomes exhausted.

The employment level will remain at about 2,400 persons.

Calumet is a cluster of eight hamlets on the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula in Houghton County.

The area was named after the ancient Indian peace pipe and came into existence sometime during the early 1600s. Since then the Calumet field has become 10th among copper producers on the North and South American continents.

In 1953, the Calumet mines produced 88 million pounds of copper from all three major types of raw material operation—mining, scrap and reclaiming. The scrap copper is produced from a collection of manufactured copper items.

Reclaimed copper is produced from waste materials which originally are a by-product of mined raw copper.

Tourist Trade Blossoms

Company officials say the C and H northerly mines of Ahmeek, Allouez and Kearsarge will be depleted of copper just in time for the Osceola shaft to take in the extra employes.

They also predict a population shift to the Calumet area. The way is clear, officials say, because the area has ample school buildings, private homes and company and private enterprises.

The company says it expects to continue the search for commercial ore deposits to extend the Calumet area's prosperity.

Calumet's family of hamlets — including Blue Jacket, Red Jacket, Laurium, Copper City, Osceola, Tamarack and others—huddle on the Peninsula nearly surrounded by Lake Superior's chilly but important waters.

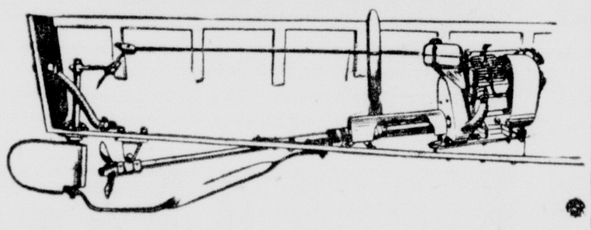

The area's water supply, operated jointly by the city and C and H facilities, provides the Tamarack-Osceola area with a 2,500,000 gallon capacity.

The tourist trade also has blossomed until it now draws tens of thousands of vacationers. Large motels are the latest move in Calumet's plan to attract more visitors.

Calumet terms itself the gateway to the Keweenaw Peninsula and expects to become as noted among tourist attractions as it now is among copper producers.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

The better you know America, the better the future looks!

Great changes are taking place in America today. And each one of these changes brings with it an equally great opportunity for all of us — businessmen and farmers, factory workers, office workers and housewives. Here are just a few of the changes that, directly or indirectly, will make your future brighter.

THE CHANGE: America's booming birth rate! Every day we add 11,000 new babies, enough in a month to populate a city the size of Richmond, Va.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Babies are good customers — for baby foods and safety pins right now, eventually for all products that make our factories hum.

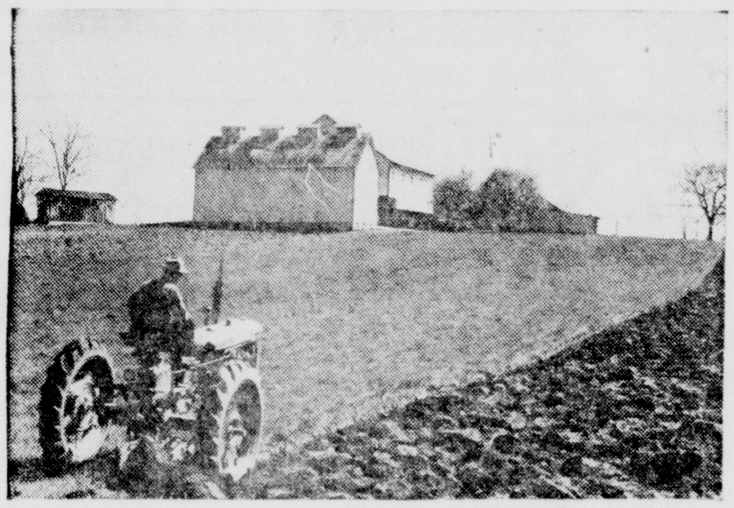

THE CHANGE: Even though employment in some areas has fallen off, we still have twenty million more jobs than we had in 1939. And the long-range trend is up.

THE OPPORTUNITY: A flow of purchasing power that keeps our economic machine running smoothly and steadily.

THE CHANGE: Nine times as many Americans now enjoy a $5,000-plus income as in 1941. Savings are at an all-time high.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Saved money is for spending — for homes and automobiles and washing machines and whatever else enterprising businessmen have to sell.

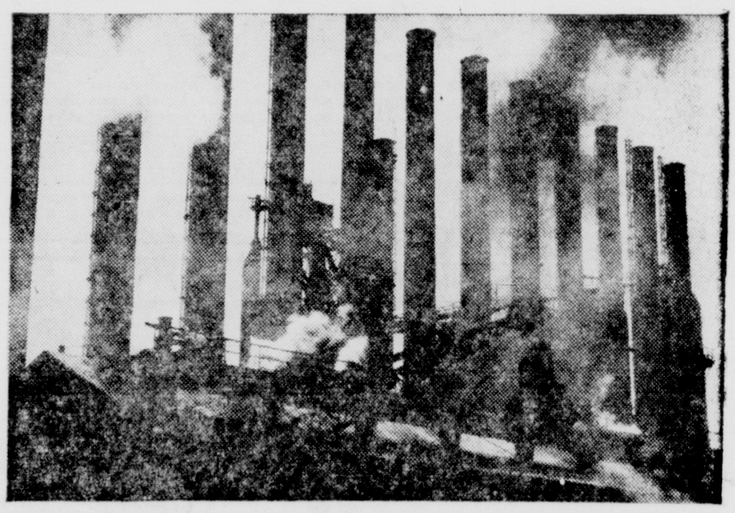

THE CHANGE: By rapidly mechanizing our farms, we have increased agricultural output 52% per man-hour since 1940.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Increased farm production makes the American farmer a better customer for all kinds of merchandise.

THE CHANGE: More and more of our young people attend high school and college; 2,377,000 are in college right now.

THE OPPORTUNITY: An intelligent, informed public is a great assurance of future prosperity and stability for any nation.

THE CHANGE: Our industrial genius increases America's factory output every year. Today, 98% of our work is done by machinery.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Increased productivity creates higher living standards and leads to more general prosperity.

THE CHANGE: More leisure. Forty million Americans get paid vacations, and they're not spending their free time in the old rocking chair.

THE OPPORTUNITY: More and more dollars for the hotel and transportation business, and for the sports, hobby and entertainment fields.

THE CHANGE: Our growing knowledge of atomic energy and how to harness it for constructive peacetime uses.

THE OPPORTUNITY: This opens up fabulous new fields. Sooner or later, atomic energy will run our farms, factories and mines.

THE CHANGE: Membership in religious congregations has increased at twice the rate of our population gains.

THE OPPORTUNITY: Our spiritual gains will help us to lead richer, fuller lives, and to make the best use of our material gains.

June's local automobile accident rate topped a comparative June, 1953, figure by four according to a State Police report Wednesday: Twenty mishaps were recorded last month while only 16 were listed for June of last year.

Local accidental fatalities increased 400 per cent last month over June, 1953, the Manistique State Police post found. Four deaths were recorded during last month, three in a June 20 two-car accident near Garden Corners. Only one died in 1953.

Court Doubles Work Last Month

Justice Court collected $1,276.80 in fines and costs last month according to figures released Wednesday by Judge Edward J. Doyle. This is within $2.20 of doubling the $639.50 collected during May.

Criminal cases accounted for much of the increase; the number of such matters standing at 54 compared to May's 29. June fines for criminal matters amounted to $744.50 against $289 paid in May. By far the largest traffic violations, said Judge Doyle, are still committed by "speeding" and "improper overtaking and passing."

Violations of City ordinances other than overtime parking also increased during June. Thirty cases last month were fined $251 and paid $532.39 including fines and court costs. In May the corresponding figures were 19, $196 and $350.

There were 40 overtime parking violations in May and only 17 in June. Ten civil cases were decided in May and 31 last month. Three were remanded to the County Jail in May while four were sent there in June.

Bears Rally To Hang 4-3 Defeat On Barks

The Escanaba Bears crawled out of a 3-0 hole here yesterday to pin a 4-3 loss on Bark River and stretch their undefeated string to five games.

The Barks moved out in front in the top of the fifth when Gordy Nevela lashed a single to center field with the bases loaded. Joe Rademacher, who opened the inning with a single, had crossed the plate when the Bears went for a double play on a ball hit by Wally Flath.

Nevela's hit came after Bear hurler Charley Camps intentionally walked Babe Kleiman to fill the bases.

The Bears cut the deficit to 3-2 with a pair of runs in the sixth and then scored two in the seventh without the benefit of a base knock.

Bob Rodman walked leading off the seventh and Camps was safe on an error at second. A passed ball advanced both runners and Ernie LaChapelle, who came in to relieve Rademacher, got Joe Ricci and Dick Lough on strikeouts. With Doug Peterson at bat, Rodman broke for the plate and slid home on a perfect steal to tie the score. Camps, who had advanced to third on the theft, came in with the winning run when Kleiman muffed Peterson's grounder to first base.

Camps scattered eight hits, fanned six and walked two for the Bears. Rademacher and LaChapelle whiffed 10 and walked two while holding the Bears to six hits.

The Bears will play an exhibition against the Niagara Badgers of the Tri County League Monday afternoon at the City Diamond.

Senator Good Baseball Scout

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) —If Herman Welker ever gets tired of being a United States senator, there's small doubt he could snap up a job mining baseball talent for the major leagues.

As a scout — part-time, unpaid and just for the fun of it — he's already set up a good record.

The latest in Welker's "book" is Harmon Killebrew, a kid who splintered fences in an Idaho bush league until the Washington Senators snapped him up for a reported $50,000. Welker put the Washington club onto the 18-year-old Idaho phenom.

Welker recommended third baseman Andy Carey and infielder Rudy Regalado to the Pittsburgh Pirates, although Carey wound up with the New York Yankees and Regalado with the Cleveland Indians.

Welker rates as his best pitcher discovery Vernon Law, a mainstay for the Pirate mound staff.

Why does the senator bother to do this? He takes no pay.

"I am a disgruntled ballplayer who should have been a major leaguer," explains Welker, a one-time semi-pro infielder.

Tigers Clip Chisox 4-3 On Tuttle Homer

BALTIMORE (AP) — With fourth place in safer shape, the Detroit Tigers came east for a short stay today after their surprise knocking-off the Chicago White Sox.

The Tigers put a solid hold on fourth place by trimming Chicago 4-3 on Bill Tuttle's ninth inning home run Wednesday before the Washington Senators fell to Philadelphia's Athletics 8-7 in a night game.

Detroit and seventh-place Baltimore open a three-game series Friday, including a single game on Sunday's Fourth of July. Today was an open date.

Host To Indians

The Tigers present three-game edge on Washington gives them something of a breathing spell before they go back home for Monday's July 5 holiday doubleheader with the league-leading Cleveland Indians.

The victory over the White Sox yesterday won the series, two games to one, for the Tigers and staked Billy Hoeft to his fourth win against seven defeats.

Hoeft came in in the eighth to replace George Zuverink when the latter weakened to allow two runs after doing an almost flawless job from the start.

Tuttle's game - winning homer was the second of the game for Detroit. Wayne Belardi hit one with the bases empty in the fourth, which tied the score at 1-1. Chicago had scored in the second on a single, an error and an infield out.

The Tigers lost the services indefinitely of Catcher Frank House and Infielder Fred Hatfield through injuries. House suffered a gash over his eye in a collision with Belardi while they chased a pop-up. Hatfield jammed a finger in a slide at second base.

Giants, Indians Gain On Every Team

Take Tighter Grip At Top

By BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Cleveland Indians and New York Giants held tighter holds on first place today, after every one of the other 14 major league teams lost ground in the pennant races during June.

Cleveland was in first place a month ago but added two games to its margin over Chicago and half a game over the third-place New York Yankees.

The National League race fell apart in June, leaving only the Giants and Brooklyn as solid contenders.

The Giants turned in the best record ever compiled for the month of June in the modern history of the majors. They won 24 out of 28 games and moved from third place, a game and a half out of the lead, into a three-game advantage over second-place Brooklyn.

Dodgers Fall Back

The Dodgers had an excellent 21-8 mark while falling behind. The Phils fell 6½ more games off the pace; Cincinnati, 9½; St. Louis, 11; Pittsburgh, 11½; Milwaukee, 12 in a nosedive from first to fourth place, and Chicago, 17.

In the American League the Philadelphia Athletics lost 5½; W..shington and Balimore, 8 each; and Boston and Detroit, 10 each.

The Giants whipped Brooklyn 5-2 Wednesday, Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 8-0, St. Louis crushed an 11-game losing streak with a Cincinnati 11-3 and Chicago broke 9-7 decision over Milwaukee.

Cleveland shaded Baltimore 2-0, Chicago bowed to Detroit 4-3, Boston tripped the Yankees 6-1 and Philadelphia edged Washington 8-7 in the American League.

Johnny Antonelli won his 11th game as the Giants made it two straight over Brooklyn. New York scored three runs in the eighth on four walks and a single by Whitey Lockman.

Roberts Wins 11th

Robin Roberts applied his whitewash brush to the Pirates for his 11th victory.

After losing 11 straight, the Cubs almost did it again. They built up a 9-2 lead over Milwaukee in eight innings only to have the Braves rally for five in the last of the ninth. The Cubs ended the month with 21 losses in 25 starts.

Joe Cunningham, playing his first major league game, drove in five Cardinal runs at Cincinnati with a home run and a single. Rip Repulski homered twice for St. Louis.

Mike Garcia handcuffed Baltimore on four singles and Larry Doby gave him the only run he really needed with a 400-foot homer.

Wilson Homers Twice

A ninth-inning homer by Bill Tuttle sent the White Sox down to defeat. The Sox had rallied for two runs to tie the score in the eighth on a walk, a double by Chico Carrasquel and a single by George Kell.

The Yankees ran into Willard Nixon again in Boston and the right-hander whipped them for the third time this season. Mickey Mantle's 14th homer was the only New York run.

Bill Wilson, who has found the home run range since being traded to Philadelphia by the White Sox, hit a pair against Washington, the second one coming in the last of the ninth for the victory margin. Wilson has hit seven homers, five in June.

Cavarretta Plays Against Cubs First Time In Life

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) —Phil Cavarretta, hot-hitting "spare tire" of the Chicago White Sox, tonight plays for the first time against the team he served 20 years as man and boy, the Chicago Cubs.

There's a touch of irony in 37-year-old Cavarretta's appearance in a charity exhibition game against the wobbly Bruins who last spring disowned him as manager because of alleged lack of will to win.

Since Phil joined the Sox in May, he has become a most valuable pinchhitter and standin for Ferris Fain at first base. In 19 games he has batted 30 times and produced 11 hits for a club-leading .367 average.

Fain Injured

With Fain injured, Cavarretta will play in the vital series at Cleveland this weekend.

Cavarretta is in marvelous physical condition. He still can cut a wicked caper around first base. Even on his "outs", he has been laying the wood to the ball.

Does Cavarretta bear any rancor about his discharge by the Cubs, who currently are mired in one of their worst slumps in years?

"I can honestly say that I consider Mr. Wrigley (P. K. Wrigley, Cub owner) and the Cub organization generally as my good friends," said Cavvy.

All But One

Then he waved a hand with one finger up, adding: "But there's one person I couldn't say the same about."

Phil didn't say who, but presumably he was referring to Wid Matthews, personnel director of the Cubs, with whom he strongly disagreed on the 1954 potentialities of the Cubs.

Matthews thought the Cubs were improved over 1953. Phil thought otherwise.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Lawrence H. Caron, who passed away one year ago today, July 1st.
He was only a little white rosebud,
A sweet little flower from birth,
God took him home to heaven,
Before he was soiled on earth.
Sadly missed by his parents and family,
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Caron and family.

Tender Hyacinth On Auction Block

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Two Great Lakes diesel-powered package freighters, both converted lighthouse tenders, were on the auction block Wednesday in the Grand Rapids Federal Building.

One, the South Wind, was operated several years ago as a package freighter out of Grand Haven to ports on Lake Michigan's west Shore. The other is the Hyacinth, which has not lately been in operation. Both are berthed in White Lake near Montague.

At a sale two months ago conducted by federal officials on behalf of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., there were no bidders. The government at that time had set minimum prices of $57,000 on the South Wind and $17,500 on the Hyacinth.

Wednesday's sale was to be conducted as an auction with no minimum price but all bids were subject to final approval by the Federal District Court.

Several inquiries have been received regarding the sale from as far away as New York City, federal officials said.

Mortgagee of the two ships is Commerce Lines, Inc., of Grand Haven.

Catcher Of Sharks Finally Gets Caught

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie stunt man Frank Donahue has been busy all week catching sharks. Finally one caught him.

With his bare hands he caught more than 60 sharks off Santa Monica Bay, but they were too small. He needed a fish at least seven feet long as a wrestling partner in a movie scene.

Tuesday he jumped off his boat and swam around. Sharks swam close as usual. Donahue grabbed the tail of the nearest one and flipped it onto the boat deck. Then he climbed aboard for a look. The flopping shark bit deep into his right elbow and forearm.

He went to a hospital for treatment.

Potato Farmer Puts 600,000 Ladybugs To Work In His Fields

PETOSKEY (AP)—Harvey Brubaker, Emmet County potato farmer near Brutus, has imported 600,000 farm hands from Phoenix, Ariz., for summer work.

The new "hands" are ladybugs. Brubaker and his wife have made a study of the work ladybugs can do. They expect their six gallons of helpers to eat 45 insects a day each, not to touch vegetation, stay approximately right where they are released, and above all, multiply.

Brubaker said the bugs should show an increase of 15 to one in the first 15 days.

They feed on aphids, flea hoppers, small worms and their eggs, Brubaker said.

His shipment arrived by plane.

What do 11,000 new customers a day mean to your business?

It's astonishing but true – 11,000 new babies arrive in the U. S. every day of the week!

Our population is growing so fast that every month we add enough people to populate a Richmond, Va., or a Tulsa, Okla. At this rate, we'll have about 180 million people by 1960.

This is a very healthy thing for America – and for you. It means an ever-increasing demand for every kind of consumer goods. Not just for cribs and baby bonnets – but for everything that people eat, wear and enjoy.

Our soaring population is just one of the many big changes taking place in America today - changes that open up new opportunities for us all. Here are a few of these changes:

1. MORE JOBS – Even though employment in some areas has fallen off, we still have 20 million more jobs than we had in 1939. And nine times more Americans are in the $5000-plus income bracket than in 1941!
2. MORE MONEY – In spite of inflation and higher prices, the American people have over twice as much spending power now as they had in 1940.
3. MORE SAVINGS – Individual savings in America rose from $68.5 billion in 1940 to about $250 billion in 1953.
4. MORE FARM OUTPUT – 52% more per man-hour than we had in 1940 – and this in spite of a net shift of almost six million away from farms since that year!
5. MORE LEISURE TIME – Forty million Americans get paid vacations – a great boon to the hotel and transportation business, to the sports, hobby and entertainment fields.
6. MORE ATOMIC POWER – Sooner or later, atomic energy will run our trains, heat our homes and light our cities. This – plus advances in electronics – can usher in a fabulous new era for America.
7. MORE DEMAND – Right now there is a $500 billion backlog of demands for goods and services to build roads, schools, hospitals, highways and factories. (For example, we have to nearly double our school system in the next few years.) Filling these demands will create more jobs, more spending power, more industrial opportunities.

You are bound to profit from all these changes – whether you're a businessman, a housewife, an industrial worker, a farmer, or a salaried employee.

Barring a major war, America's future never held greater promise.

The better you know America, the better the future looks!

St. Lawrence Seaway O.K. Renews Hope For Novel 100-Mile Belt Line

Approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway has given new impetus to the proposed 100-mile Riverlake belt conveyor connecting Lake Erie with the Ohio River, by way of Youngstown. The project at present is stymied by the need for special legislation to give it the legal right to acquire right-of-way by court action, if necessary. Riverlake volume at the lake terminus is estimated at 20,000-000 tons or iron ore and 7,000,000 to 15,000,000 tons of coal. Recently an 18-foot working model (above) was unveiled in Cleveland. Left side of photo represents the river terminus at Liverpool, Ohio. Right side shows the lake terminus, probably Cleveland. Conveyor consists of two rubber-covered belt lines, one moving north, one south. At (1) Coal from riverside storage bins (2) is loaded on feeder line to main belt (3). Main belt travels north to transfer point (4) where coal is switched to feeder line (5). This drops it into storage bins, from which it is loaded on empty ore ship. Southbound ore is unloaded from ship at right (not visible) onto open-air stockpile (6). Conveyor belt (7), exiting from bins (9). Riverlake officials estimate the belt will mean savings of $2 to $3 a ton at Cleveland and Youngstown on finished steel products. Map at right shows course of the endless belt. Primary advantage claimed is reduced transportation time and costs for shipping iron ore south from the lake and coal northward along the Ohio to the belt line.

Livonia Fire Claim Of General Motors Totals 30 Million

LONDON (AP)—Insurance companies paid out 30 million dollars—the largest single property claim in history—as the result of the fire that destroyed the General Motors plant at Livonia, Mich., Aug. 12, 1953, the British Insurance Association said.

A spokesman said American and British firms split the payment covering the complete loss of the 34-acre plant which turned out automatic transmission systems for almost the entire American auto industry.

The spokesman added that larger insurance payments have been made in the past but these covered disasters in which there were more than one claim.

About 40 million dollars was paid in the 1944 Texas City explosion, 80 million in the 1944 Bombay fire and about 300 million in the 1906 San Francisco earthquake and fire.

It is estimated that the Belgian Congo river represents 130 million horsepower of unused water power.

HERE'S WHY A&P'S FINE COFFEES ARE NOW ALL PRICED THE SAME!

The biggest factor in determining the price you pay for coffee is the green coffee cost. Conditions in South American coffee producing countries determine these costs.

Normally, one type of coffee used in Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar cost 2¢ to 4¢ a pound less than the other types used in these blends. We have reflected this difference in the retail prices of these blends.

TODAY THE COST OF THE COFFEES IN THESE BLENDS IS ABOUT THE SAME. THAT IS THE ONLY REASON WHY, TEMPORARILY, WE ARE FORCED TO SELL ALL THREE BLENDS AT THE SAME PRICE.

These three superb blends have always been of the same high quality—they each have a distinctive flavor characteristic. There has been no change in Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar. To get the finest, freshest flavor for your money, buy one of these magnificent blends. Remember, they still cost less than 3¢ a cup!

Atomic locomotive as designed by Dr. Lyle C. Borst, Professor of Physics at the University of Utah

When can we make atomic locomotives?

Atomic locomotives are not just a wild Buck Rogers dream of the distant future.

They can be made right now.

Plans for an atomic locomotive have already been drawn up. As you can see in the picture above, it would look like a conventional engine, except for a 200-ton steel block in the center, which would house the nuclear reactor. It would have the power of four diesels – yet would run for a year on only eleven pounds of fuel.

We point this out merely to emphasize the fact that atomic science is progressing much faster than you may realize – opening up fabulous new fields of opportunity for the American people.

In fact, America is growing and changing so fast that you might well call this our age of opportunity. Just look, if you will, at some of the things that are happening in the U. S. today:

1. SOARING POPULATION—Each month our population increases by enough people to make a Syracuse, N. Y., or a Des Moines, Iowa. By 1960 there will be about 180 million of us. This means huge new demands for everything people eat, wear and enjoy.

2. MONEY AND SAVINGS—Americans have over twice the spending power today than we had in 1940. And savings have risen from $68.5 billion in 1940 to an estimated $250 billion in 1953.

3. WE'RE GOING SUBURBAN—With new suburbs springing up like magic near every city, there's a tremendous demand for houses and everything that goes in them. Not to mention schools, streets, hospitals and shopping centers.

4. MORE LEISURE TIME—Americans are working shorter hours—and today 40,000,000 people have paid vacations. This is a great boon to the hotel and transportation business, to the sport, hobby and entertainment fields.

5. $500 BILLION OPPORTUNITY—Because we've grown so fast, and because the war halted civilian construction, there is now a $500 billion backlog of demand for goods and services to build highways, schools, offices and factories – a backlog that must be filled. (For example, we have to nearly double our school system in the next few years.)

Any way you add it up, America today is a land of phenomenal growth, change and expansion. And in the long run, you're bound to benefit – whether you're a businessman, or a farmer, or a housewife, or an industrial worker.

In short, as America grows ... so do your opportunities!

This bird means business!

(He makes 11,000 calls every day— delivers 4,000,000 babies a year!)

These days, the stork is working overtime.

He established the all-time record last year when he delivered almost four million babies in the U.S.A. Four million – that's about 11,000 new customers every single day!

Our population is growing so fast that every month we add enough people to make a city the size of Richmond, Va.

What does this astonishing population increase mean to American business?

Simply this: an ever-increasing need for everything America makes, everything America eats, everything America wears. Everything.

And this is just one reason why you are living in the age of America's greatest opportunities. Here's just a small sample of the big changes that are taking place:

1. We have more jobs – Even though employment in some areas has fallen off, we still have twenty million more jobs than we had in 1939. Nine times more Americans are in the $5,000-plus income bracket than in 1941!

2. We have more money – In spite of inflation and higher prices, the American people have over twice as much spending power now as they had in 1940.

3. We have more savings – Individual savings in America rose from $68.5 billion in 1940 to about $250 billion in 1953.

4. We have more farm output – 52% more per man-hour than we had in 1940 – and this in spite of a net shift of almost six million away from farms since that year!

5. We have more leisure time – Forty million Americans now get paid vacations – a great boon to the hotel and transportation business, to the sports, entertainment and hobby fields.

6. We'll soon have atomic energy driving locomotives, planes, power plants. Barring war, the atomic age should be America's greatest age!

7. We have a $500 billion backlog of needs that must be filled. We need $40 billion for schools . . . $60 billion for highways . . . $100 billion for housing . . . $300 billion for durable equipment. All this we need and more – much more!

It's plain to see that every businessman, housewife, laborer, white-collar worker, farmer – every one of us – is living on the threshold of America's greatest age of opportunity!

Famous Big Top Lost In Deluge Of Red Ink

COMING DOWN — The Carl Hagenbeck bigtop has been folded away for the last time.

By TOM STONE
AP Newsfeatures

HAMBURG, Germany—The Carl Hagenbeck circus, remembered fondly by millions of Americans, has been drowned in red ink. The show started in a small way in 1887 but grew through the years. Later, when it toured the United States, it was one of the big bigtops.

At its peak it traveled in 120 railroad cars with 250 animals and performers and other employes to match. Lorenz Hagenbeck, son of the owner, and Carl-Heinrich Hagenbeck, a nephew, say they could not pay expenses and maintain their 12-cent price for children's tickets. They closed the show rather than charge the children more.

The Hagenbeck name still remains in the circus world. There is a Wilhelm Hagenbeck circus and a Willy Hagenbeck circus. But the Carl Hagenbeck circus owners turned down a Spanish bid for their whole show. They did not want to see it operate under another name. Now it's scattered all over Europe.

Some lions and tigers went to Paris. A soccer-playing elephant team, some zebras and horses went to England. One of the animal trainers is touring Africa with his tigers. A giraffe was sold in Italy. Many of the animals are staying in Hamburg, however—in the Stellingen zoo which the Hagenbecks operate.

Even if the tent were packed at every performance they could not meet the $1,666 a day to keep the three special trains on the road, the owners say.

The crest of the center of the horseshoe falls in Niagara Falls has receded about 5 feet since 1764.

Heathen Chinee— He No Savey

HONG KONG (AP) — The sons of the peasants and workers in Red China are no shining lights as scholars. The Peiping Ministry of Higher Education has put out a set of orders on how to cope students whose "low cultural foundation" made them "unfamiliar with the ways and methods of study."

The Reds, in a forced enrollment, put more than 22,000 such children into middle schools in 1951-52 on a quick-course schedule to "develop technicians." Last fall the first 1,500 finished the short courses and were dumped on the colleges. A high percentage of them have proved deficient in "language and analytical geometry . . . with rather poor knowledge of mathematics, physics and chemistry."

The teachers are told to "form special classes," to "improve teaching methods and strengthen after class coaching activity."

The title "Prince of Wales," often held by the British crown prince is not inherited, but conferred upon each holder individually.

Quick Cleanup For Blind Man

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — The Rev. Harold D. Haynes didn't see the swarm of carpenters, painters and landscapers who brightened up his house—free of charge. The blind minister's home was chosen from among more than 100 suggested to start a cleanup week.

Do you realize how fast America is growing?

(...and making new opportunities for you!)

Right now America is in a period of tremendous growth. In the long run, this means more jobs, more money, more security, more homes and more opportunities for all of us. Whether you're an industrial worker, a farmer, a housewife or a businessman—you can profit from America's new and soaring growth. Here are nine ways America is growing now as it has never grown before – giving millions of Americans opportunities they have never had before!

11,000 BABIES are born in the U.S. every day! Each month we add to our population enough people to make a Richmond, Va., or a Syracuse, N. Y. This means a huge new demand for everything we eat, wear or enjoy.

MORE JOBS— Even though employment in some cases has fallen off, we still have twenty million more jobs than in 1939. And every time a new invention comes along it means even more jobs.

MORE MONEY – In spite of inflation and higher prices, the American people have over twice as much spending power now as they had in 1940. Nine times as many Americans now have an income of $5,000-plus.

FARM MACHINES produce far more than ever before. Though our population has had a net shift of almost six million away from farms since 1940, there has been a 52% increase of farm out-put per man-hour.

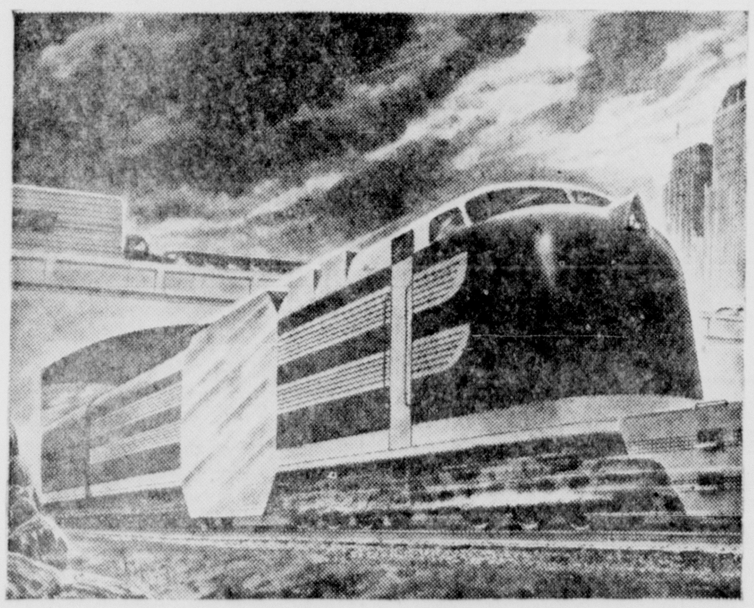

MORE STUDENTS are in our high schools and colleges. (Present college enrollment: 2,377,000.) This means that tomorrow's American public will be the best-informed and most productive public in our history.

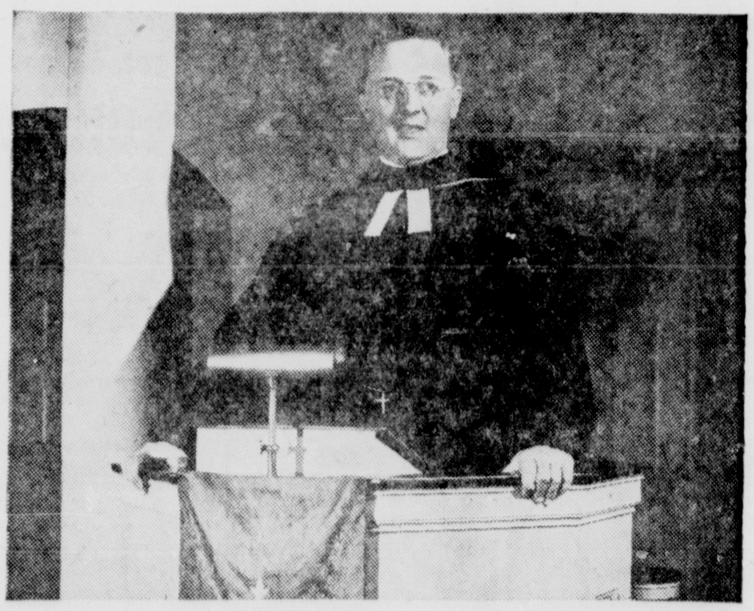

INDUSTRIAL GENIUS – America's know-how with machines has tremendously increased output. Today 98% of all work is done by machines. There's more power in a modern automobile than in the average factory of 1890.

LEISURE TIME and travel time are on the upgrade in America. Forty million Americans get paid vacations. This is a great boon to the hotel and transportation business, to the sports, hobby and entertainment fields.

ATOMIC ENERGY opens up a dazzling new vista of opportunities. Soon locomotives can be driven by atomic energy, as well as power plants, planes, cars. Barring war, the atomic age should be America's greatest age!

SPIRITUAL INTEREST in the U.S. is growing fast. Membership in religious congregations has increased at twice the rate of our population growth. Our religious gains will help us make the most of our material gains.
